The "Lived" Constitution and Educational Opportunity:
Who, What, When, Where, Why

Founder and president of The Algebra Project, Moses has raised awareness and united students, parents, teachers and community members in the struggle to remove barriers to the fundamental civil rights of economic access and workforce equality.

He wholeheartedly embraces the educational concept that all children can learn and deserve the best education possible. Moses believes that for an individual to succeed in the 21st century, he or she must be proficient in math and science, especially since the information highway has been paved with advances in computer technology powered by math.

In the repeat breakout sessions, Moses will demonstrate how to make math interesting to students by using everyday life experiences.
